HOMECOMING 1972

The 1972 Homecoming, one to be remembered, was planned by chairman Tricia Hajduch and her committees. The activities began on Thursday, October 12, with a parade winding through the streets of East Chicago, concluding with a Pep Rally which included the annual Senior skit. On Friday night, Bishop Noll was victorious over the Gary Roosevelt Panthers with a 20-6 outcome. Halftime ceremonies centered around the coronation of the queen, Robbin Barrera. On Saturday, the Homecoming dance was centered around the theme of "Saturday In The Park." Couples danced to the music of "Heavy" as Dave Talenco was crowned Mr. Touchdown.

Karen Palla takes on the role of Mephistopheles to fire up B.N.I.'s enthusiasts during Homecoming. Homerooms engage in Homecoming Activities. Floats are judged on originality and imagination.

B.N.I. scholars compete to determine most outstanding member of "super class". Elaborate costumes highlight activities. Robbin Barrera in triumphant moment as Homecoming Queen.

Arlene Baker and Bill Howard spend a quiet moment between dances. Queen, Robbin Barrera and Mr. Touchdown, Dave Talenco reign over the events of the dance while tasty hors d'oeuvres are served by freshmen girls. John Murks and Karen Marquart arrive at the Homecoming dance.

1972 HOMECOMING DANCE

FALL COMEDY

Set in a large radio and television reference department, William Marchant's comical play "The Desk Set" was the fall presentation under the direction of Mr. Joseph Malczak and Miss Marilyn Popovich.

Reference department employees Sadel Meyer (Celine Wuellner), Peg Costello (Robin Barrera), Ruthie Saylor (Chris Mis) and their supervisor Bunny Watson (Diane Irk) must combat efficiency expert Richard Sumner (Dean Niedenthal) and the computer which was designed to replace them. Department manager Abe Cutler (John O'Brien) becomes a romantic distraction for Miss Watson.

A cooperative crew headed by Jon Radde and Maria Hand contributed to the play's success.

Willy Vasquez and Patty Fox prepare to dance during the Christmas celebration.
Jon Radde looks on as Dean Niedenthal and Joanne Firrek pose for Jim Süles.

The office Christmas party provides wholehearted enjoyment for all employees.

Snow Queen Maurcen Mulholland and Snow King Mike Neal reign from their "Castles in the Air!" Kathy Stolarz and her escort enjoy a slow dance. Ballots are cast for Snow King and Queen.

ary Ann Hohenberger and Tim Kish find time for discussion. Robbin Herrera and her escort pause among the picturesque decorations.

WINTER FORMAL

The days of chivalry and knighthood were recreated when the B.N.I. cafeteria was transformed into a "Castle in the Air." After passing over a medieval drawbridge, couples entered into a fantasy land created by decoration co-chairmen Nancy Bugajski and Maureen Mulholland. The music was provided by "Bus". The success of this mid-winter dance was accredited to the work of general chairman Tricia Hajduch.

Couples dance to a slower beat of Michigan City Limits. Gwen Homco 1973 Sweetheart Queen. Patti Sember and Jim Gardner are attracted to the decorative showcase. Peggy Simco and Dave Talenco enjoy a tranquil moment, apart from the activities of the evening.

TURNABOUT

The Turnabout dance, sponsored by the Service Club, changes the traditional boy-asks-girl custom. The success of this year's Turnabout can be attributed to the work of head chairmen senior Gwenn Homco and junior Michelle Hicks and their committees.

The BNI cafeteria was transformed into an old French cafe amid a city street as the theme "Cabaret" was vividly portrayed. The couples enjoyed music provided by Michigan City City Limits. The evening was highlighted by the crowning of Gwenn Homco as Sweetheart Queen.

Robby Helm and date parley before entering Cabaret. Charlene Brooks and escort dig on the beat of Michigan City Limits. Nancy Greski and escort enjoy intimate conversation in the midst of the Cabaret.

MARDI GRAS

With the aid of Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, and Snow White, the Mission Club sponsored the annual Mardi Gras on April seventh and eighth. Colorful murals of the Disney characters transformed the BNI fieldhouse into a carnival whose theme, "Mickey Mouse and Friends Present the Wonderful World of Disney" appealed to the young and the young-at-heart. At booths such as the Swisheroot, Casino, Car Smash, Space Walk, and Cane Toss, students competed for prizes, tested their skills, and wished for luck. A dance on Saturday night opened the festivities which ended after the crowning of Mardi Gras King, Tom Ispas and Queen, Rosemarie Kresich, Sunday evening.

Enthusiastic seniors John Vrbancic and Bill Marianes get a start on their booth. Later, rollicking in the "Space Walk," Joni Wesson and Molly Ahlgram have a fun time. Melvin Flack takes time out for an ice cream cone.

Bingo seems to be a favorite with Laura Germick.

Exhausted Mardi Gras goers stand back and watch while Steve Motkowitz displays his shooting ability.

Curly taunts Jud Fry (Joe Prieboy) to a perilous point in the number "Pore Jud is Dead." Ali Hakim (Dean Niedenthal), the fast talking Persian Peddler tries to slip a silk garter up Aunt Eller's limb to the amazement of Ado Annie (Diane Irk) and Laurey. Laurey is forced out of her dreams by the girls who are telling her to make up her mind.

SPRING MUSICAL

Once again Noll's Little Theatre came brilliantly alive as the curtain opened on the 1973 spring musical, Oklahoma. The setting is Indian Territory, Now Oklahoma, just after the turn of the century.

Aunt Eller is the stable personality for Laurey who is troubled over the rivalry she has caused between Curly and Jud Fry. Ado Annie, who is constantly chasing Ali Hakim, becomes confused when Will Parker comes back to marry her. But everything works out fine, for everyone concerned.

Reverend Jack Winterlin both produced and took charge of the choral for the musical, which was directed by Miss Marilyn Popovich. She was assisted by student director Marianne Firrek. Mrs. Mary Krick was choreographer, while stage crew was put under the guidance of Mrs. Sharon Blumentritt. Mr. James LaMantia was musical director.

The Dream Figures of Laurey (Maureen Mulholland) and Curly (Jeff Svoboda) displayed intricate Ballet positions during the "Dream Ballet." The Territory Folks joyfully sing "Oh, What A Beautiful Mornin'" to celebrate the marriage of Curly and Laurey. Curly (Jerry Rueth) tells Miss Laurey (Alanna Purcell) not to be such a "smarty", or he won't take her to the box social. As Aunt Eller (Marie Ambre) looks on, Will Parker (John O'Brien) focuses in on some "purty pictures."

From Queen and King, Nancy Klisiak and Lenny Ostrowski take delight in the evening music. Robin Hoover and her escort exchange sentimental gifts. Couples dance in the elegant ballroom of the Sheraton Chicago.

PROM

The Sheraton Chicago Hotel was the site of this year's Prom entitled, "Dancing in the Moonlight." While couples enjoyed dinner, they were entertained by the Rich Bendel Orchestra and later danced to the music of the All Star Frogs. Towards mid-evening Lenny Ostrowski and Nancy Klisiak were crowned 1973 Prom King and Queen. Responsible for planning the night were Jeanette Polance and Jean Verkuilen, co-chairmen.

Dianne Irk, Jon Radde, Sharon Harbert, and Greg Trzupek take a breather from the excitement.
Holly Klosky and Jim Stiles enjoy each others company.

Seniors solemnly await the big moment Valedictorian Mary Frances Gilbert and Salutatorian Mark Nowlan convey their messages to the graduating class. The faculty reflects on the past school year at Noll.

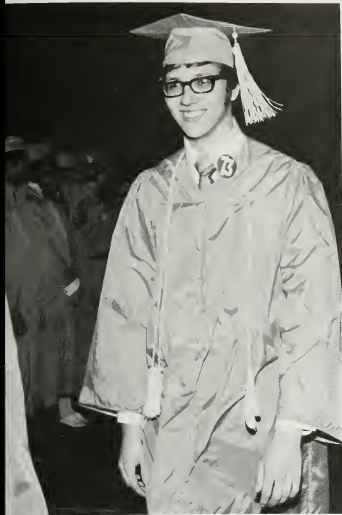

Smiling senior Tom Kmiecik walks up to receive his diploma. Bishop Andrew Grutka surveys the graduates before speaking. Graduates sing "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

GRADUATION

On May 28, 1973, Bishop Noll Institute honored its 395 graduates at the Fiftieth Commencement exercises.

The program was opened with a welcoming address from Reverend George M. Vrabely, Principal, followed by speeches from Salutatorian, Mark Nowlan and Valedictorian, Mary Frances Gilbert. In her address she emphasized that through her four years of high school, she "learned a great deal about living," and later led the graduates in their class song, "Let There Be Peace on Earth."

Mr. Douglas Parker, senior class sponsor, presented the graduates as Bishop Andrew G. Grutka awarded the diplomas. Seventy-two students were honored with state scholarships.

ACADEMICS

Doreen Nunez leaves a trail of paper in front of her adding machine.
A classroom takes on the looks and sounds of a business office.
Jesse Campos stops to correct a typing error during class.

BUSINESS EDUCATION

The Business Education Department, headed by Sister Rosita and Mrs. Pihulic, provides effective courses for those interested in becoming part of the modern business world. The business courses enable students to fill a position as an employee, employer or proprietor. It also aims to train the student with sufficient information and ability to fill stenographic and secretarial positions. This year representatives from various business colleges met with students in order to better the students' understanding of the business world.

Ramsay Macleod "punches keys" at an astonishing rate on the typewriter. Mr. Bradtke helps Sharon Harbert while everyone else does their own work in Bookkeeping Class.

Barb Szany attempts to improve her writing style. Mary Urban and John Adams take advantage of the library and its facilities to help with classwork. Virginia Sasse and Ann Marie Zappia contemplate which books will make good reading material.

ENGLISH AND LANGUAGES

Under the direction of Mr. James St. Amour, B.N.I.'s English Department has constructed a four year program of literary appreciation, writing skills, and related study. These topics are being taught in daily English classes, speech classes and classes in communication arts needed to assist the students in the fascinating years ahead.

Through the efforts of the combined language departments and Miss Karaffa, Bishop Noll students now enjoy a program devised to learn the languages, customs, literary background, history and philosophy of various foreign countries. To aid the student with accent and dialect, tapes, records and language labs are used.

Students listen attentively in English class. Visual aid speeches, like the one given by Ann Marie Molenda, are an integral part of a Speech class.

FINE ARTS

"Imagination is the key to fine arts." This year's Fine Arts Department was directed by Father Jack Winterlin. The Fine Arts Department offers students a variety of opportunities in several fields, Band, Choral, and Art. The B.N.I. Band, directed by Mr. James LaMantia provided music for many school activities including football and basketball games, along with parades, concerts and musicals.

Under the direction of Fr. Winterlin, students learned the fundamentals of music along with vocal skills in choral. This year the choral and band joined together for the annual candy sale in order to raise money. In the Art Department Mrs. Blumentritt assisted the students in crafts, print making, ceramics, painting and sculpture.

Michaline Kulesa carefully constructs a coil pot. Learning self-expression through art is an accomplishment which involves concentration. Becky Duwar and Debbie Garbaciak find that block printing is enjoyable when you have friends to work with.

Members of the band tune up before a basketball game. Choral students have a chance to look over their music. Students are engrossed in their sketchwork.

HOME ARTS

The Home Arts Department Chairman, Sister Marjorie, guides the students to a better understanding of the basic skills of homecare. In the clothing division, students learn knitting, crocheting, and basic sewing methods. Students also receive a clear insight into the industries of fashion and textile.

The Food Division, under the direction of Mrs. Sally Evanoff, offers nutrition and meal planning with special emphasis on food preparation. In addition to hearing daily lectures, the students also have the opportunity to apply and practice the procedures they learn in the classroom, through lab work.

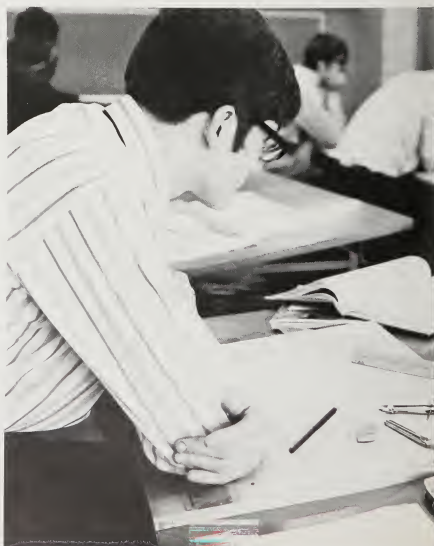

Home Arts students learn the basics in cooking and clothing.

Debby Janovsky delights in creating her own fashions. Donna Wojick and Judy Markovich knead dough for their pizza. Jon Boyle believes that a man's place can be in the kitchen.

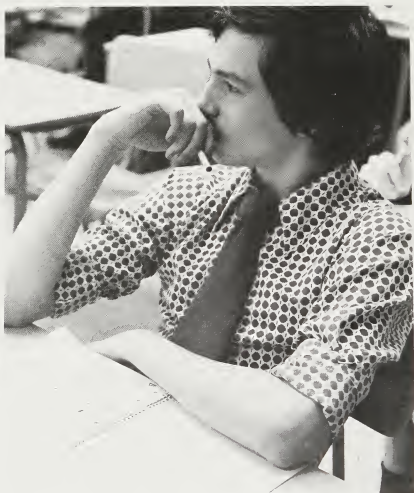

Mr. Queyquep helps John Vrbanic revise drafting notes. Philip Phillipov watches Mr. Joyce review Math work as Dave Humbert studies the dimensions of a new drawing.

MATH

The Math Department under the direction of Sister M. Imelda prepares students for college and the modern business world. Courses such as General Math, Geometric Algebra, Algebra Trigonometry, Calculus and Computer Programming strive to better the students understanding and interest in mathematics. Over-head projectors and three-dimensional equipment make it easier for students to grasp concepts of mathematics.

Randy Salach finds Math interesting. Wally Kasprzycki and Kim Kobuchar take notes in Algebra class. Steve Buzinski listens carefully before correcting a Math assignment.

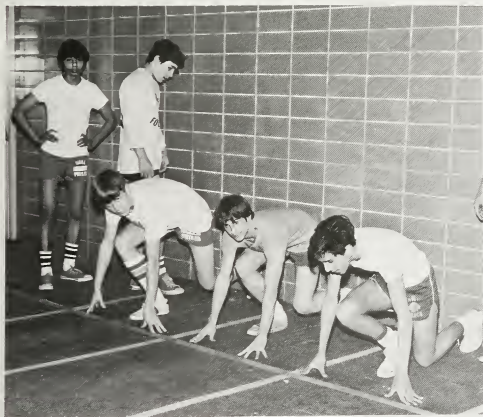

Sophomores use new weight machine during physical education class. Physical education student attempts low hurdles. In addition to regular physical education class activities underclassmen also enjoy swimming.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

The Physical Education Department, run by Mr. William Archer for boys and Mrs. Sheila Kelly for girls, works to develop coordination, speed and endurance. Above all, teamwork and sportsmanship are stressed at all times. Students have the opportunity to try their hand at basketball, softball, soccer, handball, volleyball and swimming. Daily calisthenics and use of the new Universal Weight Machine aid the students in becoming more physically fit.

Cordell Purnell watches while John Piatti does all the work. Freshmen students eagerly await the start of the race. Underclassmen find calisthenics quite strenuous.

RELIGION AND SOCIAL STUDIES

The Religion Department is faced with the responsibility of turning today's students into dependable and outstanding citizens of tomorrow. Emphasis is placed on modern Christian problems and the role young people play in relation to them. The Religion Department is headed by Father Michael Ruggaber.

The Social Studies Department under the direction of Mr. Timothy Hyland is not only a factual study of past events but also a study of how man has to cope with his problems through the years. Sociology, geography and economics serve to rough out the student's knowledge of social studies.

Students talk to Father Ruggaber in his classroom. Sophomore students discuss a chapter from their religion books. Pete Germick and Tom Karlowicz come to a better understanding of Politics through U.S. Government.

SCIENCE

Students are introduced to the basic disciplines of science through the BNI Science Department. Sophomores study various life functions in Biology, while Juniors endure the rigors of Chemistry. Seniors ponder the relationships between matter and energy in Physics. Laboratory periods give students the opportunity to apply their classroom knowledge in experimentation. The department is under the guidance of Mr. Walter Pikul.

Mary Bauer works diligently at solving one of the many problems given to science students. Smiles can be found even in Biology class. Mark Gargula checks his calculations

In finding new friends, man grows
In growing, man finds new friends.
How strange it is that one will never exist without the other.
For to hold friends, one must grow
And by growing, new friendships are developed.
Man seems but a tree
To be nourished and pruned
by those around him.
In time, with care, he shall bloom
And bear the fruit of love for all to share.
